Carolina Lady Got So She Could
Just Drag—"Cardui Built Me
Up," She Declares.

Kernersville, N. C.—In an interesting statement regarding Cardui, the Woman's Tonic, Mrs. Wesley Mabe, of near here, recently said: "I have known Cardui for years, but never knew its worth until a year or so ago. I was in a weakened, run-down condition. I became draggy—didn't eat or sleep to any good; couldn't do anything without a great effort. I tried different remedies and medicines, yet I continued to drag.

"I decided to give Cardui a trial, and found it was just what I really needed. It made me feel much stronger soon after I began to use it. I began to eat more, and the nervous, weak feeling began to leave. Soon I was sleeping good.

"Cardui built me up as no other tonic ever did.

"I used Cardui with one daughter who was puny, felt bad and tired out all the time. It brought her right out, and soon she was as well as a girl could be. We think there is nothing like Cardui."

Do not allow yourself to become weak and run-down from womanly troubles. Take Cardui. You may find it just what you really need. For more than 40 years it has been used by thousands and thousands, and found just as Mrs. Mabe describes.

From Whence Come Bonehead Bills?

Some members of the legislature have gray matter that is properly protected with a bony skull. Others have heads that are bone for some distance in. A few have heads that are solid bone. To this latter class belong the so-called law-makers who are striving to do away with all the men teachers at the Mississippi State College for Women, and at the same time put Doctor Fatheree out and a man doctor in.

A young fellow once felt called upon to preach. He went to an old and successful clergyman and said to him, "I have been called to preach. Everywhere I look, I can see the letters, 'P. C.' I interpret them as meaning, 'Preach Christ.'"

The older man examined him intently for a minute and replied, "No doubt, young man, you have seen those letters, but you have not interpreted their meaning accurately. 'P. C.' in this instance means 'Plover Corn.'"

And thus it must be with some of the male creatures whose bonnets harbor legislative bees. They interpret the letters, "M. L." as meaning "Make Laws," when, in fact, they mean, "Maul Logs."

To a man who knows Professor William Garner Burgin, Professor Thomas F. McBeath, Doctor Dabney Lipscomb and Doctor Lawrence G. Painter, the suggestion that they be removed from the faculty of M. S. C. W. comes as pure, simple, unadulterated idiocy. There's not one of these gentlemen but whose influence is as good as any of the lady teachers in this college or in any other college. They have been for years subjected to the acid test. They have been tried in the fires of experience and have come out unscorched. They have been weighed in the balance and have not been found wanting. To remove them from the faculty because they are men would be to render far less useful to the state this great school.

Consider the absolute lack of intelligence of so-called law-makers who would remove a man from the classroom because he is a man, and at the same time would displace a woman doctor with a man doctor. If you can imagine a more idiotic proposition, let us have it.

The "Meddlers' Itch" is becoming so widespread and so destructive, we would like to see a rigid quarantine raised against it.

We know not from whence came the so-called law-maker's inspiration for the framing of House Bill No. 696. We hope it did not come from a woman or an organization of women. It would ill become the ladies, as soon as they obtain equal rights with men, to commence a curtailment of the rights of the men.

Let the men teachers alone at M. S. C. W. They are numbered among the South's most refined, intellectual, cultured Christian gentlemen. Not one of them but whose influence is good, wholesome, uplifting. And this means morally, spiritually and intellectually.

THE HOUSE BY THE SIDE OF THE ROAD

There are hermit souls that live withdrawn
In the peace of their self-content;
There are souls like stars that dwell apart
In the fellowless firmament;
There are pioneer souls that blaze their paths
Where highways never ran;
But let me live by the side of the road
And be a friend to man.

Let me live in a house by the side of the road,
Where the races of men go by—
The men who are good and the men who are bad,
As good and as bad as I.
I would not sit in the scorners' seat,
Or hurl the cynic's ban;
Let me live in a house by the side of the road
And be a friend to man.

I see from my house by the side of the road,
By the side of the highway of life,
The men who press on with the ardor of hope,
The men who are faint with the strife;
But I turn not away from their smiles or their tears,
Both parts of an infinite plan;
Let me live in my house by the side of the road,
And be a friend to man.

I know there are brook-gladdened meadows ahead,
And mountains of wearisome height;
That the road passes on through the long afternoon,
And stretches away to the night;
But still I rejoice when the travelers rejoice,
And weep with the strangers that moan,
Nor live in my house by the side of the road
Like a man who dwells alone.

Let me live in my house by the side of the road,
Where the races of men go by.
They are good, they are bad, they are weak, they are strong,
Wise, foolish; so am I.
Then why should I sit in the scorners' seat,
Or hurl the cynic's ban?
Let me live in my house by the side of the road,
And be a friend to man.

ANDREWS CHAPEL

Mrs. Annie Cogdell and family were recent guests of Mrs. J. P. Parker.

James Bean Cogdell, son of Mrs. Annie Cogdell, spent the day Saturday with Matthew Lowery.

Mr. J. W. Vaughan has been visiting his daughter, Mrs. Alice Parker, for several days.

Mr. C. R. Dickens and family were recent guests of Mrs. Maxie.

Mrs. Alice Parker sold a hundred bushels of peas in Columbus Saturday.

Mrs. Annie Cogdell was shopping in the great city of Columbus on last Thursday.

Mrs. J. P. Parker has put her twin boys in overalls, and they sure do look cunning.

Mr. J. C. Fellows was a business visitor in Columbus on Monday.

Dear old Columbus Dispatch! We sure do enjoy your visits. We believe the Columbus Dispatch is the best newspaper in the South.

Mr. Woods has moved into a fine neighborhood above Caledonia.

We have preaching at Andrews Chapel the third Sunday of each month. All are cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. Elonia Hutchinson has been having some ditching done on her plantation.

We are very grateful to Supervisor John B. Williams for the good work he had done on our road. We would be very glad if Supervisor Dale would have the road fixed from Mrs. Parker's to Mrs. Hutchinson's. It has been this winter so our school truck couldn't go over it without getting stuck.

Miss Mary Sue Caine, of Caledonia, spent Monday night with Lockie Lowery.

Mr. Leon Browning has bought a fine new automobile.

Mr. A. A. Whitney has moved to the Benjamin place. We would be glad if more men like Mr. Whitney and Mr. Boyd would move into our community.

The finny tribe had better swim low, for Mr. Dickens is going to put in three nets.

Mr. Editor, the first time we come to Columbus, we'll bring you a fine cat-fish.

Miss Lockie Lowery is suffering the inconvenience of a black eye just now. She was in a dark room, and bent over to get a match. She was so unfortunate as to strike her eye on a chair.

TWAS EVER THUS

I wear my silken shirts and scarves and shoes that cost twelve bones, and somewhere some poor aleck starves and sends up anguished groans. I eat long strips of costly pie and drink imported tea; and hungry reubens amble by and doubtless snarl at me. I ride around in my sedan, whose price was pretty steep, and pass some sore and seedy man who has no place to sleep. Oh, is it right and is it just for me to ride in state, while, blinded by my smoke and dust, toils on some hapless-skate? Am I a sinner when I eat or buy a gorgeous lid or clothe my large but shapely feet in kangaroo or kid? Would there be less of poverty, of sorrow and despair if I should from the fleshpots flee and fill a hermit's lair? I doubt it much; the wall of woe would rise from people rid if I should rise from my whippers and in the woods run wild. If I quit buying shirts and hats with my spare chickenfeed, some girls in crowded city flats might lose the jobs they need. The boss would say, "There's been a slump in spangled shirts and socks and so I shoo you to the dump and pay you no more rocks." It's hard to know just what to do in this cheap vale of tears; the thing that looks all right to you, to me a frost appears.

Well, we are still having some bad rainy weather. From the old saying, we will have six weeks of bad weather, because the ground hog came out on the second day of February and saw its shadow and went back. We shouldn't grumble, because we had two real spring days last Saturday and Sunday. Everybody began to think that spring was almost here, but alas! We are still having rain, rain and more rain and wind.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Spith, Mr. and Mrs. Dewitt Smith and little daughter, Mary Francis, spent last Sunday very pleasant with Mr. and Mrs. Berry Gallop.
